TAKE PRISONER FROM TOWN JAIL

Batter Down Door and Attempt to Lynch Offending Negro.

THEIR VICTIM SAVED

Gordonsville, Va., July 27.—Armed guards patrolled streets of Gordonsville Saturday night to prevent rioting, following the rushing of troops into town from camp to frustrate an attempt to lynch James Addison, a half-witted negro, who, it is alleged made a murderous attack on a militiamen at the carnival grounds. The arrival of the relief party was just in time, as the infuriated comrades of the injured man had succeded in battering down the flimsy door in the small town jail. While the negro was rushed from town by guards eighty men under Captain Ramey took charge of the situation. and after putting on a patrol, rounded up all stragglers and brought them back to camp. At 11 o'clock the situation had quieted down and no further trouble was expected.

Addison, who is a stable hand in the town, is said to have threatened a noncomissioned officer in one of the regiments, and then attacked him. The militamen was hit with a rock, and a fight began, in which the negro was beaten up. He was arrested by the civil authorities and rushed to jail, followed by several hundred of the State volunteers. A battering ram was improvised from a wagon tongue and the frail door speedily broken down. The arrival of the troops saved the negro from rough handling, if not from being summarily punished.

Under orders of Colonel Wilder, U. S. A., all militiamen in town were picked up by a provost guard, commanded by Captain Bowman, Company M., Second Regiment, brought back to camp and turned over to their commands.

There was intense excitement in town, where the usual Saturday night crowd had been augmented by the country people who had visited the camp.

Efforts were instituted to fix the responsibility for the trouble. The injured militiamen was lost in the crowd, and the military authorities have not learned his name. Other than the one fight, the soldiers were quiet and orderly in town, but the attack of the militiamen fanned into flame the spark of mischief which has been smoldering all week.

It is probable that only men with leaves of absence will be permitted in town for the rest of the week although this is the first trouble.

ALLEN TO PAY FOR MURDERS.

Clansman's Estate Will Be Sold Under Judgments Court Officers' Heirs Hold

Wytheville, Va., July 25.—With the consent of court and counsel on both sides, a judgment for $1,000 was entered today on each of suits brought by the respective administrators of Judge T. L. Massie, Sheriff Lewis Webb, and Commonwealth's Attorney W. A. B. Foster, against C. F. Cocke as committee for Sidna Allen.

These suits were brought immediately after the killing of the court officers in Hillsville in March, 1912, against Sidna, Floyd, Claude, and Victor Allen, Wesley Edwards, and Byrd Marion. Floyd and Claude Allen and Byrd Marion being dead, and Victor Allen being acquitted, the damage suits against them were dismissed.

Attachments against Sidna Allen's estate will be enforced, and steps will at once be taken to sell his real estate for the benefit of the holders of the judgments

Mrs. Grace Ale who has been confined to her home for the past few days is able to be out again.

NEWS OF THE DAY

In a quarrel with a fellow-countryman at Eckhart, near Cumberland, Md., early yesterday morning, Paolo Conersano, 28 years old, was shot and killed. While the fight was ostensibly over a dollar, it is said there was Mafia feeling behind it.

All previous records in coal production in the United States were broken in 1913, when 570,048,725 short tons, valued at $760,488,785, was mined.

W. J. Neill, of Atlanta, on Saturday shot ad killed his divorced wife and then shot himself, dying two hours later. The shooting occurred at the woman's apartment and is said to have resulted from a quarrel over the possession of the Neill's child awarded to the mother by the court when the divorce decree was granted. Letters found in Neil's pockets indicated that he had been employed as a railroad brakeman

Prohibition was defeated in Saturday's State Democratic primary election in Texas. J. E Ferguson. of Temple, anti-prohibition candidate for the nomination for Governor, increased his lead to 30,000 over Thomas H. Ball, of Houston, the prohibition candidate. The returns indicate a final majority for Ferguson of about 40,000. The resolution to have a State constitutional prohibition amendment election was running behind Saturday night, with prospects that final figures would show its defeat by about 30,000.

Two women were instantly killed and another seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding dashed into a Springfield and Washington Traction car seven miles southeast of Springfield, O., early yesterday. The dead are Mrs. Alta B. Grey, of Jeffersonville, and Miss Sadie Williams, of South Charleston. Miss Gergis Blessing, of Jeffersonville, was seriously injured. The negro chauffeur for Mrs. Grey is under arrest.

As the Khedive of Egypt was leaving the grand vizierate Saturday afternoon, an Egyptian attempted to shoot him. The assailant was promptly shot down by a member of the Khedive's suite.

FUNDS FOR NEW HIGHWAY.

Arrangements for Financing Enterprise with Citizens' National Bank.

Arrangements have been completed with the Citizens' National Bank, of this city, by the supervisors of Alexandria County, for the necessary funds to pay the county's share of the new highway to be constructed between Washington and Alexandria, and which will form a portion of the Mt. Vernon Boulevard.

The road is to be built jointly by the Bureau of Good Roads of the Department of Agriculture, of the United States government, and the authorities of Alexandria County. The cost is estimated at $60,000 and the length of the road to be built is approximately four miles. Of this distance two miles is already improved with a high-class macadam road on a stone foundation.

A meeting will be held at Alexandria Court House tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at which time the formal contract between the government and the county authorities will be signed. Under the terms of this contract the road will be built by the government engineers under the standards prescribed by the department.

The government's money is a part of the fund granted by Congress a year ago for experimental work on post roads. The Citizen's National Bank of this city will act as trustee for both parties to the contract and disburse the funds.

The new road will start at the southeast corner of the Arlington estate, where it will join the new highway built by the government from the south end of the highway bridge. Under the terms of the contract the road is to be maintained by the authorities of Alexandria County.

NOTICE.

The members of R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, are notified to meet at No. 1413 Prince street, tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon, at 2:45 o'clock, in uniform, to attend the funeral of their late comrade, James A. Wigfield.

FUND FOR WOMEN RUNNING SHORT

CASE IS EXPLAINED

Aid of Daughters of Confederacy Chapters Needed to Insure Regular Payments to Those on List.

Richmond, July 27.—Though the General Assembly of this year doubled former State appropriations for the care of needy Confederate women, who are not inmates of any home, making the appropriation $5,000, the money is already nearly exhausted, according to Mrs. Samuel A. Riddick, president of the Virginia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and Mrs. N. V. Randolph, chairman of the relief committee of the Virginia Division .

The Legislature in 1912 apropriated $2,500, and a like amount was appropriated in the following year, for the relief of the destitute Confederate women of Virginia. This year the appropriation was doubled, and it is still insufficient to meet all the demands upon it. The Auditor of Public Accounts disburses the appropriation on the recommendation of the chapters. The chapters then become responsible for the eligibility of applicants, who must be more than sixty years of age, destitute, not on the State pension rolls, not an inmate of any institutional home. There are now on the auditor's roll 142 Confederate women, representing nearly every county in the State, and receiving from $9 to $12 a quarter, according to age and infirmity. The appropriation of 1914 is taken up, and no more names can be added until death shall have removed some now on the roll.

The relief fund of the Virginia Division, which is supported by the chapters, takes care of the cases which cannot be placed on the auditor's list. There are now, it is stated, more beneficiaries than ever before, and yet the contributions have fallen short, a condition, it is said, which is not due to lack of interest, but to the fact that the chapters think the appropriation from the State sufficient to meet all appeals.

As a matter of fact, this is not the case, for there are now thirty-nine Virginia Division beneficiaries, each receiving from the division treasurer a monthly check for $3, which means an outlay of $117 per month. Mrs. Riddick and Mrs. Randolph say that unless this is borne in mind and the chapters send in their belated contributions, the time is not far distant when the amount on hand will be exhausted and the checks, of necessity, be discontinued. They think that a statement of existing facts will be sufficient, without an appeal.

TRAGEDY IN WIPING FACE.

Hotelman Shoots Wife and Self, Thinking It Flirting Signal.

Pottsville, Pa., July 27.—Joseph Pacenta, a hotel keeper, whose place of business is opposite the Schuylkill County Court House, yesterday shot his wife while in a fit of jealous rage and afterward sent a bullet into his own head.

Pacenta was evidently determined to kill his wife, as he fired at her three times, but two of the bullets went wild. The third struck her in the breast near the shoulderbone. Both Pacenta and his wife were removed to the Pottsville Hospital in a serious condition. The couple have seven small children.

It is said that the quarrel which led to the shooting began when Mrs. Pacenta took out a handkerchief to wipe her face. Her husband, misunderstanding the movement, thought the woman was waving her handkerchief as a signal.

SERVIA AND AUSTRIA.

War Outcome of Chronic Ill-Feeling Between the Two Nations.

While the immediate cause of Austria-Hungary's attack on Servia is the demand for reparation for the murder of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg, the ultimate causes are the movement of the Hapsburg Empire toward the South and the desperate efforts of the entire Serb race to regain complete national existance.

Ever since the repulse of the Turkish Army from Vienna in 1683 the Austrians have steadily fought their way southward, expecting ultimately to make their way to the Aegean over the ruins of the Turkish Empire. Austria, like Russia, was not unwilling to see small buffer states set up to occupy the middle ground during the intervals of rest in her forward movement, and so most of the Balkan States of today came into being.

Of the Servian race, which in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries ruled a vast empire, extending over the western half of the Balkan Peninsula and the Eastern Coast of the Adriatic, practically all had come under Turkish domination in the sixteenth century, The Serbs of the hinterland of Istria and Dalmatia were soon taken from Turkey by Austria, and Montenegro won its independence. This left the Serbs of Bosnia, the Herzegovina, and Servia proper, as well as of the Sanjak of Novi Bazar and Northern Macedonia still under Turkish rule.

The Serbs of the present kingdom became autonomous in 1830, but revolted in 1876-78, aiming at complete freedom. With them joined their kinsmen of Bosnia and Herzegovina The Russo-Turkish war which followed made great changes in the Balkans. Servia proper obtained complete independence, but Bosnia and Herzegovina were left nominal Turkish dependencies, but really to be occupied by Austrian troops.

The consequences of this was a four-year insurrection against the Austrians, the effects of which have never disappeared. The Austrians have spent large amounts of money on the country, but never allowed it autonomy; and in 1908-9, using as an excuse the constitutional revolution in Turkey, which would require delegates to the Turkish Parliament to come from those two states which were actually in Austrian hands, the Hapsburg monarchy formally annexed Bosnia and the Herzegovina Germany backed up her ally, and the protests of the Slav powers did not go to the extent of war. Meanwhile the Slavs of Dalmatia are under Hungarian rule; and here, as in Bosnia and the Herzegovina, promises of local self-government have never come to anything more than words That the northern half of the Servian race is still under the Austrian Empire.

Meanwhile the Southern half was finally united by the victories over Turkey in the war of 1912. Not only did this reconquest by the Servians of the core of their old empire, in Western Macedonia, give a tremendous impulse to the longing for complete national unity but it showed the Servians nation that its military organization could be relied on for hard work.

In the fall of 1912 the Servians mobilized 260,000 men in the first three weeks, and later added 145,000 more to the number, and while their losses in this war and in the struggle with Bulgaria in the summer of 1913 were heavy, the Servian troops fought brilliantly and proved themselves efficient and enduring.

But the fruits of this war were in part taken from them by Austria whose diplomatic activity was responsible for, the ruling of the powers which compelled the Servians to give up part of their conquests in Albania Thus Servia lost her chance to get a seaport and remains a landlocked power, her only outlet being through the friendly Greek ports on the Aegean

But the Servian victories in Macedonia and the Greek capture of Salonika put an unexpected obstacle in the way of Austria's march to the south. No more could the dual monarchy hope to inherit Salonika and the land between that port and the frontier of Bosnia on the final downfall of Turkey; Servia was now squarely across her path.

So the Balkan wars left the Serv:

ADVANCE UPON SERVIAN CAPITAL

Soldiers of the Austrian and Servian Nations Precipitate War.

BURNING OF BRIDGE

London, July 27.—Servian troops today blew up the railroad bridge spanning the Savre river at Semlin It is at Semlin that Austria has concentrated the greatest force for the invasion of Servia.

Reports were received today that a battle is in progress near the mouth of the Tames river, east of Belgrade. The outcome of the fighting has not been learned.

Heavy concentration of Austrian troops on the Servian and Montenegrin frontiers and mobilization of more are admitted.

The Servian army is concentrating in the interior and the Montenegrin army has been called out. Belgrade citizens engaged in a panicky exodus. fearng the immediate capture of the Servian capital by the Austrians.

Other powers in Europe are endeavoring to prevent a general war Russia is seeking more time for Servia to answer the Austrian demands but has warned Austria and Germany that it cannot be indifferent to an invasion of Servia. Stern orders just issued against publicity of military movements conceal activities of the Russian army, five army corps of which are reported to be mobilizing.

The Kaiser and Czar are said to have been in personal communication, but Berlin reports that Germany has taken the position that the quarrel between Austria and Servia is their own affair and that others must not interfere. Great Britain France and Italy, reluctant to be drawn into the conflict, are pressing Germany to restrain Austria, although Italy has given assurance that she will support her ally.

Answering the announcement that the German fleet was concentrating in the Baltic the British and French fleets have been ordered to abandon maneuvers and remain in close to their bases. The Italian fleet in concentrating in the southern Adriatic.

War feeling is still running high in Germany and Austria and people in Russia and France are resentful of the attitude of the Triple Alliance, and are making demonstrations hostile to Austria and Germany.

A tremendous force of artillery 3,780 guns makes formidable the field army of European Russia, which has been completely reorganized since the lesson taught by Japan.

The Russian war minister has announced to the Czar that thirty army corps are eady for this emergency.

The fighting strength of an army corps may be taken as 40,000 including 4,000 cavalry.

So Russia is prepared to mobiize 1,200,000 men.

EXCITEMENT IN DUBLIN.

Dublin, July 27.—Dublin is seething with excitement today. The populace worked up to fever heat by the killing of three men and one woman and the injuring of eighty, in the streets yesterday by a detachment of the King's Own Scottish Borderers, is on edge, and another outbreak is feared.

Nationalist volunteers, carying rifles, are walking about the streets and few policemen are to be seen. A great crowd paraded the streets most of the night, singing "God Save Ireland," and "A Nation Once Again."

Carrying the rifles, the volunteers started to march to Dublin, Authorities there sent 260 police to the scene and also a detachment of the King's Own Scottish Borderers.

When the volunteers met this force a majority escaped across fields with their rifles. The police ordered the remainder to give up their rifles. They refused and in the melee that followed several policemen were injured.

Marching back into Dublin, the Scottish troops met a mob which began to hoot them and throw stones At Wellington bridge in the heart of Dublin, an officer gave orders to fire into the crowd. Scores were wounded. Three men and one woman died soon afterward in the hospital and five more, it is learned will not recover.

The lord mayor has written a letter of protest to the government, declaring that the calling out of the troops was not sanctioned by him.

Thirty of the eighty shot or bayonetted were reported today to be seriously wounded.

PANIC IN LONDON MONEY MARKET

RALLY COMES LATER

London, July 27.—All European stock markets were in a state of panic today, the past thirty-six hours having failed to bring forth any definite development indicating that a disastrous war may be avoided. Consols slumped 13-4 at the opening of the London market and all issues were off from one to five points .

Consols dropped to 71, which is 2 1-4 below Saturday's close and a new low record. The previous low mark for the year was 71 1-2 in January and the lowest record in 1913 was 71 1-16.

There was a rally about 1 o'clock, Consols going up to 72. Home Rails are from 1 to 1 1-2 down. Canadian Pacific touched 176, but recovered to 178 1-2 (equivalent to 174 3-8 on New York Exchange, being off five points). Union Pacific was off 3 1-2; Amadgamated Copper was off 2 points

TRIAL OF MRS. HALL.

Richmond, July 27.—The trial of Mrs. Victor Hall, indicted on a charge of murdering her husband on the morning of April 15 in their store at Green Spring Station, Louisa County, will begin at Louisa Courthouse tomorrow morning, with Judge George S. Shackelford on the bench.

The crime is so involved in surrounding circumstances that it is one of the most mysterious in the criminal annals of the State, and, connected as it apparently is with two fires of incendiary origin and third attempt at arson, it aroused Louisa county to a high pitch of excitement before the arrest of the indicted woman.

A few hours before Victor Hall was shot and killed in his own store the store of W. R. Dunkum, just across the road from the Hall store, was burned to the ground. Victor Hall, aroused from a sick bed, went to the assistance of his neighbor and friend, and, after seeing that efforts to extinguish the blaze were useless, returned to his store, which is also the Hall dwelling. A few hours later he was found on the floor of his store, a bullet in his head, and the body lying with the head near his bedroom door.

ATTACKED WITH RAZOR

Horace A. Heflin, a brakeman employed in the Potomac yards, was seriously cut in the back early Saturday night by Thomas Padgett, who wielded a razor. The cutting occurred in a saloon on King street.

According to the statements of witnesses, Padgett entered the saloon where Heflin was standing talking with a number of friends, and, without saying anything, slashed his victim across the back, inflicting a cut more than 12 inches long and two inches deep.

Heflin was taken to the Alexandria Hospital, where his wound was treated by Dr. Llewellyn Powell. Padgett was arrested and refused to make any statement regarding the cutting. He asked that he be released on collateral, but his request was refused.

Heflin was unable to appear in the Police Court this morning, and the case was continued for five days.

Essington, Pa., July 27.—A bolt of lightning killed George Simon, aged 50, of Philadelphia, late Saturday night as he and friends sought shelter under a tree during a shower.

The bolt first entered a large limb of the tree and passed down the trunk, against which Simon was leaning. The current entered the man's shoulder, passed down his body and out at the heel and toes of his left leg, leaving burns on each.

FIGHT FOR PROHIBITION

The State-wide prohibition fight, which will culminate in the election to be held on September 22nd, at which time the people of Virginia will decide whether or not the entire State will go dry, is reaching a stage of activity that promises to rouse considerable interest within the next few days. The campaign for the anti-prohibitionists has been under way for several weeks and is being conducted in a quiet manner. No meetings have been held, but every voter in the district has received a large quantity of literature calling attention to the failure of prohibition in other States and the great loss of revenue Virgina will suffer if the State goes dry. The country press is being used for the publication of display advertising advising the people to vote against the prohibition measure. No arrangements have been made for public meetings by this side of the controversy.

The prohibitionists plan an extensive campaign in Alexandria, which will include a number of public meetings to be addressed by well-known speakers. The first of these meetings will be held on August 4th, when Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, who is known as the 'Georgia Cyclone," will deliver an address at the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Ex-Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, is also scheduled to make an address here in August. Mrs. Amy C. Weech, of the National W. C. T. U., who has been absent from the city for the past five months, speaking in the Middle West, has returned home and will take charge of the campaign in the Eighth District of Virginia.

While the general opinion is that the State will go dry by a considerable majority, the leaders of the anti-prohibition fight declare that there has been a great change in public sentiment within the last few days and that they expect to see their side win by a good majority.

Weekly conferences are being held in Richmond between officers of the Self-Government League, which is in charge of the fight against prohibition, and delegates from each of the counties and cities. Each week there is a new set of delegates, the idea being to have the men come there and make personal reports of the conditions in their sections. The last conference was held Thursday, at which time 120 men submitted reports of the conditions and the progress of the contest at this time. And they were declared to be of a nature wholly satisfactory and encouraging. Declaration was on every side that the wave against prohibition is growing stronger, that the people are content to have the regulation of liquor traffic in their own hands and to adjust it to suit themselves.

COOLER WEATHER COMING.

But Not Due Before Week's End. Says Bureau.

Warm and generally fair weather over the whole country is forecast by the Weather Bureau for the first half of the coming week.

"The next disturbance of importance to cross the country," said the bureau," will appear in the Far West Monday or Tuesday and move eastward, crossing the Great Central valleys Wednesday or Thursday and the Eastern States near the end of the week. This disturbance will be attended by local showers and thunderstorms and be followed by a charge to cooler weather in the northern and central states. There are no indications at this time of a disturbance in the West Indies."

PICNIC ON PLAYGROUNDS.

Tomorrow the children are requested to bring their lunch and have a picnic on the playgrounds. The parents are also invited to come with the little ones. The grounds will be open from 9 A.M. to 2 P. M. and from 5 in the afternoon until 8. The Indian Guard Band will give a free concert at 7 P .M. and all are promised a musical treat.

ESCAPED FROM JAIL.

Made targets for a fusillade of revolver shots when they refused to halt after sawing their way to freedom from the Alexandria County jail, near Fort Meyer, early yesterday morning, Joseph Mullen and Joseph Williams, Washington youths awaiting trial for housebreaking, and a third prisoner, John Norman, of Alexandria, serving a sentence for vagrancy, escaped and are still at large.

EUROPEAN WAR CLOUD.

While to the relief of so many peace loving people the silver lining of the war cloud which has hovered so long over a portion of the Western hemisphere is about to show itself, the skies of the old world have suddenly become obscured, and the vivid flashes and muttering thunder have alarmed Europe from one end to the other.

Servia, the worm, has turned upon Austria, her powerful neighbor of the North, and seems bent on fighting to the death. The Austrian demands have been met by defiance and an actual casus belli. The conflict, which has been on the board for many years, did not, of course, cause surprise to diplomats who have been behind the scenes, but it has startled millions who were ignorant of the political centre.

Could this conflict be confined to Austria and Servia, it would result as would a fight between a mastiff and a spaniel, but, unfortunately, other nations are interested, and there is every reason to believe the most powerful countries of the world will become involved.

Russia is naturally as inimical to Austria as is Servia. The latter has been shorn of the most important fruits of her conquests in the recent Balkan war. She had succeeded in securing a port on the Adriatic which she was compelled to relinquish at the ultimatum of Austria. Russia was equally interested in this procedure. She, too, is virtually bottled up so far as suitable ports are concerned, and by forming an understanding with Servia she might be benefitted in a maritime way.

Germany is an ally of Austria, and Emperor William, as soon as hostilities began, in his usual autocratic manner, declared that any third party which attempts to interfere will do so at its peril. It is a mooted question whether the other European powers will allow themselves to be thus overawed.

The whole structure of European peace is on the brink of collapse. Ten million men are waiting to be called under their respective flags, and in a few days all Europe may be aflame with war and thousands of smiling corn fields now awaiting the harvest may become the scene of blackest desolation.

The assassination of the Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his wife has been the last drop needed to overflow the cup of bitterness which has been the reward of a long life devoted to the cause of peace, and now Franz Josef has flashed his sword, and to all appearances has thrown away the scabbard.

Behind the Emperor's action, which is an indirect, but none the less extreme challenge to Russia, lies the steadfast resolution of the German races to sweep back the inrush of hordes of Slavs into Central Europe.

The dream of a greater Servia, embodying all the Slav elements in Austria-Hungary, has been a hobgoblin of the dual monarchy for the last five years.

It is realized in Vienna that this Slav movement, which received a tremendous impetus from the Servians' successes in the Balkan war, and the unexpectedly aggressive step of the Emperor is a desperate throw in behalf of the waning Hapsburg prestige. The consequences are frightful to contemplate. "The gauntlet has been thrown down and we must take it up," says the Czar.

Never since 1870 has there existed a blacker outlook. That Europe is about to sink into a welter of blood is the perspective that has caused Pope Pius X. to flash a hurried message to Emperor Franz Josef imploring him "not to stain his old age with blood."

ATTACK ON NATIONALISTS.

The unfortunate conditions existing in the northern section of Ireland incident to the home rule issue, has caused bloodshed at last. Four persons, including a woman, were killed yesterday and a little child mortally wounded when British soldiers fired on a crowd of nationalists near Dublin.

The bitterness between advocates of home rule and the Ulsterites is of long stading. The latter are averse to home rule, as they aver should this measure become operative Ireland will have a majority of Catholics in her Parliament. Both factions have reached a point in the dispute when compromise seems impossible.

The clash yesterday came at a time when the English ministry was perplexed at the sudden outbreak of war between Servia and Austria.

While it is generally believed England will give the little kingdom her moral support, some in position to know believe the nation will be compelled to play a more important part should the war cloud spread and other nation become involved.

The clash of yesterday in her own realms came at a bad time, as has the colossal strike in Russia.

INDICATIONS POINT THE WAY.

On the heel of news that Chicago had been struck by a double-barreled industrial revival, involving the starting up of a big plant that had long been idle, and the taking on of a large number of additional hands, with increase of working time by another, comes this statement from Pittsburgh: "Steel wire and steel wire nails were advanced $1 a ton yesterday. The week was also marked by the appearance of the largest total of structural inquiries that have ever appeared in one week in the steel trade."

A man shot another out in Arizona because he was lying down. My, this policy would endanger a great many lives in Philadelphia.

SERVIA AND AUSTRIA.

To this were added minor irritations, such as the railroad question in Macedonia. The Servians wanted to add the railroads in the territory conquered from Turkey to the state system, but the stockholders, most of whom were Austrians or Hungarians, objected. Moreover there was constant friction in Bosnia, and the party in Servia which regretted the break-up of the Balkan League was inclined to attribute the discord between Bulgaria and her former allies to the operations of Austrian diplomacy.

SAYS HE AVENGED SISTER.

M. C. Pendelton Killed by J. W. Powell Near Lynchburg.

Lynchburg, Va., July 27.—M. C. Pendelton, aged about 35 years, was shot and killed late Saturday night by J. W. Powell, at the latter's home, eight miles north of Lynchburg.

Powell, who is in jail here, says he shot to avenge insults offered his 16-year-old sister by Pendelton. He also claims that Pendelton was the first to open fire.

There had been bad blood between the two men for some weeks. Yesterday evening according to Powell, Pendelton came to his home and opened fire upon him. Powel. says he returned the fire and that later Pendleton stumbled into the house and died there. After the shooting Powell surrendered to county officials.

Killed in Runaway.

Richmond, July 27.—Edward M. Bell, of the firm of Bell-Brown Hardware Company, with establishments at 1607 West Broad Street and 3907 Williamsburg Avenue, died Saturday at Stuart Circle Hospital from the effects of injuries sustained in a runaway accident Friday evening when the horse attached to a buggy he was driving took fright at a handcar near a railroad crossing in Fulton and dashed down the street, at breakneck speed.

KILLED BY FAST TRAIN.

Stranger's Skull Fractured and Otherwise Injured.

Richmond, July 27.—An unidentified white man was struck by the northbound Seaboard Air Line Express at the Washington street crossing of the railroad track shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday morning, and died from his injuries a few minutes after he had been taken to the Memorial Hospital. In addition to other injuries his skull was badly crushed, and this, according to Coroner Taylor, was sufficient to have caused his death.

The dead man was apparently about 30 years old, and weighed probably 180 pounds. He had gray eyes, light hair and a dark beard. His hat was of soft gray, his shoes black button ones, and he wore a blue shirt with gray trousers.

TO HEAD HIBERNIANS.

Officers Elected by Association at Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., July 27.—After one of the hottest fights on record, the Ancient Order of Hibernians in national convention here Saturday elected Joseph McLaughlin, of Philadelphia, national president, to succeed James J. Reagan, who declined to stand for re-election. Other officers elected were Patrick F. Gannon, Massachusetts, vice-president; Charles J. Foy, Canada, Canadian vice-president; Phillip J. Sullivan, Massachusetts, secretary; M. W. Delaney, Illinois, treasurer; Edward R. Hayes, New Jersey; John E. Kealy, Delaware; Miles F. McPhartland, New York; Thomas J. Matthews, Rhode Island, and James Clancy, Michigan, members of national board.

Boston was selected as the place for holding the next biennial convention in 1916.

SUICIDE OF R. E. EDMONDS.

Ill Health Causes Casanova, Va., Farmer and Cattle Dealer to Shoot Himself.

Warrenton, Va., July 27.—Robert E. Edmonds, of Casanova, a prominent farmer and cattle dealer, on Saturday committed suicide at his home at Casanova.

Mr. Edmonds had been in ill health for several months. His physician had left him but a few minutes, when he went out into the yard in the rear of his house, and placing a revolver in his mouth discharged it. Death was instantaneous.

Mr. Edmonds is survived by his wife, who was Miss Cecelie Sterling; a brother, and a sister, all of Casanova. He was junior member of the firm of Strother & Edmonds, cattle dealers.

Auto's High Plunge Fatal.

Washington, Pa., July 27.—Charles Jordan, aged 64, a retired business man of Monessen, was instantly killed, and hs son, Jewell, aged 35, was seriously injured, when the automoble drven by the younger man plunged over a 100-foot embankment near here, early yesterday morning. William Voddice and Walter Smith of Monesson, who stayed with the falding car, escaped with slight bruises.

BOLT ENDANGERS MANY.

Norfolk, Va., July 27.—Bursting a great hole in the dome and hurling splintered timbers among the congregation a bolt of lightning struck the big octagonal tabernacle at Virginia Beach Saturday night just as Rev. B. W. Spillman, of Asheville, N. C., began his lecture before Christian Church Chautauqua on the subject of "Making Good."

Torn loose by the crash, which threw the building in darkness, falling timbers endangered the lives of many of the audience, but miraculously no one was seriously injured, though one was momentarily stunned and several suffered minor injuries, mostly scratches.

Notwithstanding the sudden outbreak of the storm, and the fact that rain came through the hole torn in the roof, the services were not for a moment interrupted, nor was there any semblance of a panic, and while the storm continued in its fury the audience sang several of the old-time gospel songs.

ENORMOUS SUMS COLLECTED.

Richmond, July 27.—That over $1,500,000 was collected in customs duties in this district of Virginia during the last fiscal year is shown by the annual statistical report just completed by Norman R. Hamilton, collector of customs for the district, with headquarters at Norfolk. These duties were collected at the ports of Richmond, Norfolk, Newport News and Petersburg. There are also customs offices at other points in Virginia, including Cape Charles, Reedville, West Point, Yorktown and Chincoteague. The business for the most part at these offices has to do with the registration of vessels, enforcement of navigation laws and other matters coming under the Department of Commerce, for which the Collector of Customs acts. The report by Collector Hamilton is the first annual consolidated report to be made since the customs reorganization, July 1, 1913, when the several customs districts in Virginia were merged into one.

Vick Justifies Self for Quitting Financee Suddenly Because of Other Love.

Norfolk, Va., July 27.—Southampton county has been stirred for the past two days by a sensational breach of promise suit, brought against I. H. Vick, a prominent trucker, by Miss Eva Jones Yates, a daughter of G. W. Yates, at Franklin, and which ended today in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The jury awarded Miss Yates $1,350.

The young woman alleges that on the day she was to have married her, Mr. Vick eloped with a Miss Turner of Franklin, and that they were married. She immediately brought suit for $$10,000 damages.

Mrs. Vick, the bride, was with her husband in court. He did not deny that while engaged to Miss Yates he married Miss Turner. He gave as justification, he loved Miss Turner better and would have done Miss Yates an injustice had he married her. He declared that before paying court to Miss Yates, he proposed to Miss Turner, and was turned down. On the eve of his wedding he met Miss Turner, the old love flamed up, Miss Turner did not turn a deaf ear and they eloped.

The jury was out only a few minutes.

Clarke County Physician Served as Surgeon in Civil War.

Berryville, Va., July 27.—Dr. Robert P. Page, aged 76 years, one of the best-known physicians in this section, died yesterday afternoon after an illness of a week.

He served during the entire Civil War as a surgeon and at the close of the war located here, afterward marrying Miss Pattie Hardie, of Petersburg, Va., who died a few months ago after celebrating their golden wedding. He is survived by two sons, Dr. John E. Page, U. S. N., and Douglas Page, of California, and four daughters, Mrs. John Goldsmith, of Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Charles M. Brown, of Roanoke, Va.; Mrs. Frank Paterson, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. McGill, of Petersburg, Va.

Dr. Page was a son of the late Judge John E. Page, of this county, and a direct descendant of the Pages who came to this county from England in 1640. He was a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity.

THE SUMMER COMFORT

July is here and we are probably in for the usual amount of hot, humid weather.

Let us show you our line of eight, twelve and sixteen inch fans.

It pays to have a breeze under your control.

"About five years ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets after suffering from indigestion and constipation for years without finding anything to relieve me. Chamberlain's Tablets helped me at once and by using them for several weeks I was cured of the complaint," writes Mrs. Mary E. McMullen, Phelps, N. Y. For sale by all dealers.

Woman's Duty to Herself.

Every woman owes it to herself to keep in good health. No one can reasonably be expected to maintain a cheerful disposition when half sick. Indigestion and constipation are two of the most common ills to which women are subject and fortunately are easily cured. Mrs. H. C. Getty, Indiana, Pa., writes: "Last summer I was advised by a friend to try Chamberlain's Tablets for indigestion and constipation. This medicine not only cured me of these disorders, but toned up my whole system so that my health has been better than for years since taking them." For sale by all dealers.
